14. Collegiate UK will not be responsible for any failure of the winners and/or guests (if applicable) to gain entry or re-entry to either event due to their behaviour or failing to meet the admission requirements. Collegiate will not be responsible for suspension or cancellation of events that may form part of the prizes, including through governmental restrictions.
15. The prizes are non-exchangeable, non-transferable, and are not redeemable for cash or other prizes.
16. Collegiate strongly suggests entrants read through the terms and conditions of Reading and Leeds Festival prior to entering the competition, on their festival websites: <https://www.readingfestival.com> and <https://www.leedsfestival.com>. Collegiate UK is not responsible for the content on third-party websites.
17. Collegiate UK reserves the right to;
- I. amend these terms and conditions in any way;
 - II. disqualify any entrant or winner who breaches these rules, has acted fraudulently in any way or brings Collegiate UK into disrepute (in its sole discretion);
 - III. disqualify any entrant or winner, withdraw or substitute any prize should an entrant winner or guest at any stage exhibit inappropriate or dangerous behaviour (including, but not limited to, being under the influence of drugs, alcohol or causing a nuisance) in relation to this competition;
 - IV. impose additional entry requirements, restrictions or additional rules should the specific prize on offer requires it (including, but not limited to, additional age or other event entry requirements, or require a parent or guardian to be present if the winner or a guest is under 18 for some or all of the prizes); and
 - V. cancel or vary the competition at any stage, if deemed necessary in its opinion, or if circumstances arise beyond its control.
18. Entrants will be deemed to have accepted these rules and to agree to be bound by them when entering either competition.
19. The competitions are run by Collegiate UK. The applicable law is that of England and Wales.
